

PRESIDENT'S VETO WAS PRESENTED TO CONGRESS TUESDAY

In Accord With Purpose; Does Not Subscribe to Provisions

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Harding vetoed the soldier bonus bill today informing congress in a written message that while he was in accord with "the avowed purpose" of the measure he did not subscribe to its provisions.

Generally it was regarded in Washington as making impossible a bonus for the world war veterans, at least for some time to come, as it appeared to be almost certain that the veto would be sustained by the senate. A vote in the house was planned for tomorrow with senate action to follow later in the day or on Thursday.

Mr. Harding's reasons for returning the bill included: "Failure of congress to provide a means of financing. That inevitably the bonus would mean increased taxation. That the legislation would wipe out everything accomplished to reduce government expenditures wherever possible. That a peace bestowed on the ex-service men was 'a perversion of public funds' and suggests 'that future defense is to be inspired by compensation rather than consciousness of duty to flag and country.'"

That to add one sixth of the total sum of the public debt for distribution among less than 5,000,000 of 110,000,000 persons would undermine confidence on which the nation's credit was built and establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so.

That the $10,000,000,000 of maturing public debt in the next six years would be difficult to meet without adding the complication of added borrowings on account of a bonus.

That the adjusted service certificate plan of payment with its bank and government loan provisions was little less than a certified inability of the government to pay and invited a "practice of official barter" by the veterans.

That the bonus would not diminish the later obligation in the way of pensions to the world war veterans.

Mr. Harding also called attention to the sums now being expended for the care of the disabled, disabled or dependent and asserted that the total cost of this work with insurance liability added, probably would exceed $25,000,000,000.

Refers to Foreign Debt
Only once did the president refer to the interest on the foreign debt, out of which proponents of the bill have contended it could be paid. He told congress that the government was facing a deficit of $450,000,000 during the current fiscal year and a further deficit for the year succeeding. Even after counting upon all interest collections on foreign indebtedness which the government is likely to receive.

As to the immediate and ultimate cost of the bonus, Mr. Harding said this was not definitely known. Treasury estimates based on what seemed the most likely exercise of the options, he continued figured the direct cost at $795,000,000 for the first 4 years and a total cost in excess of $4,000,000,000. He added that no estimate of the "large indirect cost" had been made.

The veto message was transmitted to the house by a messenger and its reading was begun seven minutes after its delivery at 3:10 P. M.

There was a full attendance of members, many of whom had returned to the capitol to vote on the question of overriding the veto.

The reading was given close attention, Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee chief sponsor of the bonus in the house, moved down the aisle to a table directly in front of the reading clerk and listened intently. There was scattering applause, mostly from the Republican side when the reading ended.

Republican leader Mondell immediately moved that consideration of the message be deferred until tomorrow and the motion prevailed. Mr. Mondell explained that delay was suggested in order to give absent members an opportunity to return for a vote.

REVOLVER WITH WHICH TWO WERE SLAIN IS FOUND

Believe it Brings Mysterious Double Murder Nearer Close

(By The Associated Press)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 19.—Discovery of the pistol with which the Rev. E. W. Hall, rector of the church of St. John the Evangelist and his young choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, were slain, brought the investigation of the mysterious double murder near its close tonight. While officials of Middlesex and Somerset counties refused to repeat earlier optimistic predictions of an arrest within a given time, it was learned that the custodian of the small county jail at Somerset, Somerset county, had been instructed to prepare for the receipt of at least one prisoner.

County Detective David of Middlesex, who found the pistol—a black automatic—refused to say where he got it of whom he suspected of being its owner. Ownership of the weapon was being traced, he said.

Earlier, detectives had come into possession of a woman's handkerchief, pierced with what appeared to be bullet holes. The handkerchief had been picked up near the spot on the abandoned Phillips farm in Somerset county where the bodies were found. Mills Not Under Suspicion.

Nearly all day long—save for a brief respite while they attended the simple funeral of Mrs. Mills—the slain woman's husband, James Mills, and her daughter, Charlotte, were closeted with officials in Prosecutor Stickers' office undergoing a minute examination. When they were dismissed, shortly after 4 o'clock, Assistant Prosecutor Toolan and Detective David, said that Mills was "definitely out of it," and was under no suspicion.

Mrs. Hall, wealthy widow of the slain clergyman, and her brother, William Stevens, had been summoned to appear but they were informed they need not come until they were communicated with again. When examination of this pair is resumed it was understood Mrs. Hall and Mr. Stevens will be quizzed especially to their movements last Thursday night and early Friday morning. It was in this period that the slayings were accomplished.

Mrs. Hall was to be asked what she was doing at the Pennsylvania station between 11 and 12 o'clock Friday forenoon.

Remsen Comhaves, lawyer, told the authorities today that he had seen Mrs. Hall come to the station somewhat disheveled, looked eagerly about for a few minutes and then depart.

NO AGREEMENT WITH WABASH
(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 19.—An effort to settle the shopmen's strike on the Wabash was made today at a conference between a committee of the men headed by F. R. Lee, of Moberly, Mo., chairman of the federated shop crafts of the Wabash and S. E. Cotter, general manager and George F. Hess of Decatur, Ill., superintendent of motive power. Mr. Lee was accompanied by a committee of six and stated the Chicago settlement plan was agreeable to them, but the unimpairment of seniority rights would be insisted upon.

Mr. Lee tonight declared no progress was made toward settlement of the shopmen's strike. He declined to describe what occurred at the meeting but added that future conferences would be held in an effort to reach settlement on the bases of the Chicago agreement. He reiterated that full seniority rights would be insisted upon by his committee.

Wabash officials refused to comment on the conference.

The Wabash System has approximately 3,500 shop workers.

JEWELL BLAMES RAIL HEADS FOR STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Responsibility for the railroad shop crafts strike was laid at the doors of the association of Railroad Executives by Burt M. Jewell, head of the strikers in answering Attorney General Daugherty's bill today.

Mr. Jewell did not appear before Judge Wilkerson, but his attorneys read into the record a long affidavit in which Mr. Jewell recited the causes which he maintains brought on the strike, detailed the history of the various unsuccessful peace conferences which preceded the agreement reached with some roads here last week and declared the union leaders never had countenanced violence.

He declared that since August 2, when the strikers accepted President Harding's second peace proposal the railway executives have maintained a lockout against them.

"To all intents and purposes," Donald R. Ribberg attorney for the strikers, "interrupting the reading of the affidavit, the strike ended August 2, when the men told the president they accepted his plan of settlement."

Some of Indicted Men are at Large

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Sept. 19.—Failure to arrest all of the 58 persons indicted in connection with the killing of 19 non-union workers of the Southern Illinois Coal company's strip mine on June 21 and 22, looms up as the latest phase of the mine killings to be inquired into by the special grand jury.

John Stewart, foreman of the grand jury and attorneys for the state received information this afternoon after the body had concluded another day of hearing witnesses that at least one and perhaps more of the indicted men who have not been apprehended were said to be in the vicinity and boasting of their freedom.

John Kelley of Ziegler, a constable is still at liberty, altho indicted twice for murder in connection with the mine riots. He was said to have been seen on the streets of Ziegler today and citizens there stated that no attempt has been made to arrest him.

Eleven of the indicted men are still at large. Roy Pennington of Marion, is the only one of the eleven whose whereabouts are definitely known. Pennington is in a hospital and his father has guaranteed his delivery to the authorities as soon as he leaves the hospital. The remainder of the men are believed by authorities to have fled the country when they heard of the investigation. They are: George Aderson, of Marion; Louis Corbett, Johnston

City; Lee Howard, Wesley McPharron, John Rushing, Floyd Stokes, William Stanley, Tony, an Italian, whose last name is not known and Herbert Walker, whose addresses are unknown.

Approximately 50 witnesses testified before the grand jury today. Attorneys for the defense, it was said are not worried over the outcome of the trials which are expected to follow the completion of the grand jury investigation at the end of this week. They declared they can prove by alibis that their clients were not at the scene when the killings occurred.

It was announced today that the Illinois Miners Union which is giving legal and financial assistance to the indicted men and their families will not offer to the grand jury any evidence concerning the deaths of three union miners in the riot which the grand jury it was stated would inquire into tomorrow.

A. C. Lewis, an attorney for the United Mine Workers said the announced policy of the mine workers at the beginning of the investigation to take no hand in the inquiry would be adhered to. He declared that if the jury wants evidence of the killing of the union miners it should subpoena witnesses as it has done in investigating the killing of the non-union men. He added that the only purpose of the miners' union in the investigation was to defend innocent men.

HOUSE AND SENATE GET TOGETHER ON COAL LEGISLATION

Some Provisions Will be Taken Up in the House for Action

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Differences between the senate and house on bills creating a federal fact-finding coal commission were adjusted today by their conference committees the measure upon which the conferees agreed, some provisions of which are regarded as a compromise, probably will be taken up in the house tomorrow for final action there.

The provision in the senate bill directing an inquiry into the whole subject of nationalization and government regulation and control was modified so that the commission may recommend as to the "advisability of legislation having to do with government or private ownership or control of the coal industry."

Under the agreement the committee membership will number seven instead of five as proposed by the senate and nine by the house, the president being left a free hand in the appointment of the commission except that members of congress are barred.

House conferees accepted the provision of the senate bill providing for a separate inquiry into the anthracite industry, the first report by the commission on its investigations being required by January 15, 1923. The life of the commission, the agreement specifies is for one year from the date of enactment.

Provision is made for an appropriation of $200,000 for the commission's expenses a split between the $100,000 allowed by the senate and $300,000 by the house measure. The agreement of the conferees fixes a salary limit of $7,500 per year on salaries. Penalties for violations of the law as provided by the house bill are written into the agreement.

CHRISTIANITY IS WIPED OUT IN ASIA MINOR

Fire Accomplished for Turks What Sword Failed to Do

(By The Associated Press)
SMYRNA, Sept. 19.—Fire has accomplished for the Turks what the sword failed to do. Asia Minor the cradle of Christianity soon will be depopulated of Christians. Many of those in Smyrna who were not snatched from death by American and other rescuers are disappearing into the hills, some voluntarily, many by force. Others are dying of exhaustion, fright or exposure on the shattered stone water front. The only city American correspondents hear is:

"Won't America come and save us?"

Mustapha Kemal's order permitting American and Allied ships to enter the harbor to evacuate the victims has relieved the anguish of both refugees and relief workers, but every day's delay in the arrival of the vessels means the death of many.

Less than 5,000 Christians remain huddled on the Quay or in concentration camps out of the original 250,000 and the worst fears are entertained for those who were taken forcibly into the interior. The Turkish edict has gone forth:

"Christianity must be stamped out in Asia."

The lack of food and clothing and the unspeakable sanitary conditions are adding to the horrors and the people are obliged to eat the flesh of animals killed in the fire days ago. The American blue jackets have ransacked the ships for condensed milk for the famished babies and have given their overcoats to women.

Suffer From Bitter Cold.
The nights are bitterly cold and the shivering fugitives take refuge in the cellars of smoldering ruins, others have burrowed into the earth. Mothers in bitter anguish and despair are thrusting their babes into the sea.

War, massacre, fire, drowning, and famine diseases have visited scourge and havoc upon the innocent and defenseless Christian women and children. One must go back to Pagan times to find a counterpart to the reign of fury, fire and famine which laid this great shrine of Christianity in ashes.

Smyrna resembles a vast Turkish cemetery the broken and blackened column of 10,000 homes combining to form a forest resembling the familiar ragged headstones of the Moslems.

Major Charles Dyer, a Boston lawyer, is the silent hero of the day. When he is not feeding or comforting survivors he is struggling to get the Turks, French and Italians to remove bodies from the vast funeral pyre in order to prevent pestilence. One of the few buildings remaining intact is a four story store structure at the end of the quay, which is being used as the American consulate. The consulate continually is besieged by Greeks, Armenians and Jews who have relatives in the United States.

Turkish irregulars now are robbing helpless refugees of their life earnings. Mustapha Kemal Pasha has ordered that all such thefts be punished by death.

The world probably never will know even approximately the loss of life caused by the invasion of the Turks, the fire and the massacre.

Estimates range all the way from 1,000 to 50,000. American naval officers who were present throughout the fire give the smaller figure but American relief workers and the British insist it is much higher.

TWENTY DEAD IN MEXICAN WRECK
(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—Twenty persons among which are thought to be several Americans were reported dead and a large number injured in a railroad wreck early today of a Laredo-bound passenger train which left Mexico City last night at a village near Quertaro.

Spreading rains due to the heavy rains which fell recently are supposed to have caused the accident. The list of victims is unavailable here. The train was preceded by a military escort train. When the latter was derailed due to the bad rails the passenger train was unable to stop in time and crashed into the other, killing the engineer and fireman instantly. Relief trains have left Mexico City for the scene of the disaster.

"JAKE" STAHL, NOTED ATHLETE, SUCCEUMS TO HEART DISEASE

University of Illinois Star Passes Away in California

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Garland ("Jake") Stahl, president of the Washington National bank of Chicago, and former University of Illinois athlete and major league base ball player, died of heart disease today in Los Angeles, according to information received at the bank today.

Stahl was a star football and base ball player at the University of Illinois from 1900 to 1903. He was born at Elkhart, Ill., on April 3, 1881.

Stahl's athletic prowess at college brought him under the eyes of major league base ball scouts. The late Frank Selee sought him for the Chicago Nationals, but the Boston Americans obtained him as a catcher in 1903. He went to the Washington club as manager the next year, remaining until 1906. Washington sold him to the Chicago Americans, but he chose to coach the Indiana university team and played with a semi-pro club in Chicago until he was transferred in a trade to the New York Americans, where he remained until July, 1908, when he returned to the Boston Americans, which under his leadership won the famous 1912 world series of eight games from the New York Nationals.

Stahl was one of the most modest men in base ball.

In 1906 Stahl married Miss Jennie Mahan, daughter of Henry W. Mahan. His wife had been a classmate of Stahl's at the University. Stahl worked in the bank out of the base ball season, and after retiring in 1913, from base ball, devoted all his time to the bank. After the death of his father-in-law, he was elected president of the bank.

For nearly two years Stahl's health had not been good. Much of the time he spent in the West. His wife and 11-year old son, Garland, Jr., were with him when he died.

Mr. Stahl was a relative of George M. Blair of this city and visited here a number of times. Shortly after the Boston Red Sox won the world's base ball championship under his management he spent a few days in Jacksonville with the family of Mr. Blair.

SEEK TO ATTAIN HARMONY IN NEAR EAST SITUATION

England and France Will Meet in Paris for Purpose

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 19.—For the time being the center of interest in the Near East situation shifts to Paris, where Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs will seek to attain harmony of views between his own and the French government. The ministerial conferences in London have ended for the moment and Premier Lloyd George has gone to the country for a few days' rest.

That the general situation is regarded as easier is shown by the fact that Mustapha Pasha, leader of the Turkish nationalists, apparently is making no move north according to an Athens report he left Smyrna for Nicomedia, adjoining Ismid South of Constantinople, while it is said tonight that Admiral Beatty may find it unnecessary to proceed to Paris.

Perhaps the most important news of the day comes in Associated Press dispatches from Constantinople, stating that Kemal Pasha has sought permission of the allies to occupy part of Thrace immediately and discuss the question of the status of the Dardanelles later in connection with the general peace problem and with the participation of all the Black Sea countries.

Crux of Whole Question
This touches the crux of the whole question. There possibly may be an agreement between Great Britain, France and Italy on the question of the neutrality of the straits and a further agreement that Constantinople eventually shall be returned to the Turks under certain conditions. But the question of the future of Thrace, outside the neutral zone, such an agreement is lacking.

Kemal Pasha, seemingly takes the view that there is nothing in the maintenance of the neutrality of the straits and the neutral zone to prevent his forces from pursuing the defeated Greeks into those portions of Thrace outside the neutral zone.

British contention is that under no circumstances will the Turks be allowed to cross into Europe until peace has been settled. But it is not certain that France sees eye to eye with Great Britain in this matter.

The fact that France and Italy are withdrawing their detachments from this region would indicate that there is lack of agreement and that Great Britain may be called upon to act alone. In that case it is understood parliament will forthwith be summoned so that the nation may have a voice in the important question of peace or war. The labor party is displaying determined opposition of any war until the last resources of diplomacy and negotiation are exhausted and a similar disposition appears to prevail in the great dominions, despite their readiness to stand beside the mother country in defiance of the neutrality of the Dardanelles.

No Early Peace Conference
In official circles it is not anticipated that there will be any early peace conference. It is understood that the instructions given to Lord Curzon by the cabinet on the general line of policy are to intimate frankly to M. Poincare that if France refuses to participate in necessary action in the Near East she may stand to lose, as she did many years ago when she refused to join England in the bombardment of Alexandria and so started a train of events which brought Egypt under British influence.

M. Poincare will be told that England is absolutely set in her view that the Turks shall not be permitted to enter Europe and that Great Britain is prepared to employ her own forces in sufficient numbers and over any length of time to bring the Turks to reason. She also will be informed that assurances have been received from Rumania and Jugoslavia that under certain conditions those countries will side with Great Britain.

It is reported that Premier Lloyd George is prepared to make a general appeal to the civilized world to support the British policy.

The British government is still without a formal reply from the Angora government to the allied warnings concerning the neutral zone. Unless Kemal Pasha should make a further move no further developments are expected until the end of the week. By that time Lord Curzon will have returned to London.

A THOUGHT

A righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again; but the wicked are overthrown by calamity.—Proverbs 24:16.

Falls have their risings, warnings have their primes.
And desperate sorrows wait for better times.—Quarles.

When all the building proposed for Jacksonville in coming months is taken into account there can be no doubt about the prosperous conditions that are ahead.

The fact that the state fair is in progress should not be taken as the cause of this rainy weather. The equinoctial time may have something to do with conditions.

The sale of Illinois road bonds brought a return very much better than at a sale held a few months earlier. The excellent price secured by the department of public works is indicative of the general upward tone that dominates business.

Extensive resurfacing work is being done on pavements in Decatur and some other Illinois cities. A few years hence it will be possible to tell whether or not resurfacing is an economical plan.

Many Illinois county officials have joined in the protest against the order which took all open cars out of every line of railroad haulage except coal. A continuance of this order will interfere with road building operations in a very disastrous way. The Illinoisans know the need of the road work and are not worried over the suggested fuel shortage.

GERMAN MARKS

(NEA)

Now that German marks are cheaper than high-grade wall paper, per, speculators again are swinging to them in a big buying movement.

The obliging German government promises that there will be plenty for all. Beginning October 1 the Reichsbank will print 4,000,000,000 (4 billion) paper marks a day.

For large investors it is rushing plates to print marks in denominations of 500,000 each, so that amateur speculators can carry around a few billions, to show their friends the mortgage they have secured on the future, with out tiring their muscles or tearing out the linings of their coats.

On September 1, German paper money in circulation totaled around 250,000,000,000 (250 billion) marks.

The presses have been turning out 2,600,000,000 new marks a day since then.

Presuming that the presses are idle on Sundays, to prevent them from melting or getting hot-boxes, about 315,000,000,000 paper marks will be in circulation October 1 when the new presses get started with their output of 4,000,000,000 a day.

By the end of the year, some 600,000,000,000 (600 billion) marks will be on the market, so don't burst a blood-vessel trying to get to the bargain-counter.

Those 600,000,000,000 paper marks—if they could return to par, "as investors" hope—would be worth $142,800,000,000.

That is twice as much as Germany's national wealth before the war and six times her present national wealth, making allowances for what has been taken from her by war.

The "easy mark," buying marks for a rise, admits that he never expects to return to par, "but a rise, ever so slight, with me holding millions of them...." and so on.

As John Moody points out in the American Magazine, the Germans may not repudiate the mark but the mark already has within a hair's-breadth repudiated itself out of existence by attaining nearly absolute worthlessness.

The Germans, in their own country, are discarding the mark in business transaction and reverting to barter and the use of foreign currencies, especially the American dollar.

The buyer whose appetite for marks is gluttonous need not worry because only 600,000,000,000 marks will be in circulation by the end of the year. Never forget, other years lie ahead.

The more the mark falls the more Germany's profit on the deal. Eventually she gets all, like the "Kitty" in poker.

E. G. Spencer of Virden has taken up his residence at the dorm. This is his second year at Illinois.

(Automobile production has reached thirty thousand cars a day)

THIRTY thousand cars a day!
Where we gonna drive 'em, hey?
If this sort of thing keeps on
All the roads we drive upon
Will be full and overflowing
As the car parade keeps growing;
We can license 'em and mark 'em,
But there won't be space to park 'em.

THIRTY thousand cars a day,
Touring, runabout, coupe,
Limousine and truck and flivver,
Flowing by us like a river;
Horns of Packards and Rolls-Royces
Will drown out all human voices,
And, instead of ozone keen,
We shall all breathe gasoline.

THIRTY thousand cars a day!
How we gonna keep 'em, say?
Every town and country dweller
Will have five cars in his cellar,
While each city man, may be,
In his flat will harbor three.
How we gonna put away
Thirty thousand cars a day?

LET 'em come; for jokes aside,
Such a record gives us pride.
Every car means more fun,
More of healthy air and sun,
More of pleasant comradeship,
Which gives life its zest and zip;
Keep 'em rolling on their way,
Thirty Thousand Cars a Day!

TAKES POSITION WITH LIGHT CO.

A. G. Morgan Will Be Manager of New Business Department.

E. H. Gray, general superintendent of the Jacksonville Railway & Light company, announced Tuesday the appointment of A. G. Morgan as manager of the new business department of the company in this city.

For the past twelve years Mr. Morgan has been in the employ of public service corporations and is exceptionally well qualified for the work placed in his charge. For a number of years he was with Stone & Webster of Keokuk, Iowa, builders and operators of the big dam and power plant at that point, and more recently with the Central Illinois Public Service company at Springfield, Ill., as traveling auditor and manager of equipment sales.

Mr. Morgan's department will cover everything in the way of electric and gas department sales and installation, including electric home needs and appliances and motors.

In conversation with Mr. Gray he stated that it was the intention of the company to give much more attention to new business problems and to securing for the public the many new labor-saving electric appliances now on the market; also to demonstrating the great saving in time and the convenience of such home equipment. Attention will also be given to the problems of home, store and factory lighting, showing those interested the best and most economical methods. This service will be extended to persons or firms using power and employing motors.

"A complete, comprehensive and satisfactory service to the public is our one aim," said Mr. Gray. "In our commercial department we have been handicapped because of inability to find a man trained in the class of work demanded, but in securing the services of Mr. Morgan we believe the difficulty has been solved in this respect, and that his long training and wide experience will afford the public the service we desire to give."

Averill Hill of Perry is now back at Illinois College and is rooming at 212 Park street.

OLD JACKSONVILLE
"THE MELANCHOLY DAYS"

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

Our greatest poet—perhaps—wrote "The Melancholy days are come, 'The saddest of the year.' But are, or were they? Sixty, seventy years ago, our boys and girls would go down to the old (and only) depot on North Main street, of the "Great Western Rail Road," about this time of year to see those they knew were coming, or to see who else would be there.

It Was a Great Time when the pupils for Bateman's School" (the West District) or Illinois College, or the Academy or the Methodist or Berean Colleges were coming for the school year. There are sedate and venerated ladies here today who will not tell you all they looked forward to, during those first weeks of September.

And there are gray-headed old fellows who will not tell you of "those fool days."

Alas and alas! How the dreams and hopes of youth are forgotten, or ignored—or hidden away from human sight or ear.

Now, My Aged Friend, be honest, and tell me if those "halcyon days of youth," as John W. Ross used to call them, weren't happy beyond all forgetting? This question is not restricted to man or woman; it is just to those who are left. Among the college boys of the fifties were T. W. Smith, George C. Noyes, Asa C. Mathews, Edward Prince, Robert M. Tunnell, J. H. Blodgett, Henry Strkyer, E. P. Kirby and William A., the Bristows, William W. Jones, John B. Gore, Inglis Laurie, John D. Strong, James G. Roberts, F. H. Van Eaton, Nat. Branson, Ed. Tanner, "Dolph" Turner, D. M. Draper, John E. Hanback, Jim Epler and Frank and "Cuss," Charles Philbrick, George W. Rouse, Bill Callon, Ed McConnell, Frank Adams, John Ballard, "Lish" Hamilton, Bob Buckley, the Smiths, Will Edgar, Dick Wolcott, Will English, Tom Booth, Charlie Brown, the Enos, the Reeds, and others. Little did Eph. Dayton know, when he walked up the aisle in old "Union Hall," and introduced the speaker of the evening, that Abraham Lincoln was going to be the greatest man of that age.

A Boy went up to the College in the Fall of 1862, and told Prof. Crampton that his father had sent him up to College, and the boy struggled with wisdom till 1868, when they turned him loose.

But Beecher Glover and Henry Stevenson and John Ayers and Charles M. Eames—father of "this here Charlie," from China—and Hardin W. Masters and Eli Hamilton and Joseph N. Carter and Ben Brown and the Barbers and James E. Munroe and John Scott Stevens and George Dod and T. Ney Morrison, and others had been "climbing the Hill." Down at the Academy the Gallaher and Jones and Long and Warren and other girls had come in, and Mary Runkle and the Adams, the Glovers and the Hockenhulls and Smiths and Mary Turner and the Sturtevents and Kate Thompson and others in Mr. Mitchell's time with Franc Mitchell and Harriet Murdock to chaperone them.

Those were great old days, with 'the boys in blue' on our streets, and Grant and Ben Grierson earning stars and riding to fame.

Were they "melancholy days?" Yes, sometimes when they brought our heroes back, and laid them, Abner Upham and Ed Anderson, and T. Thomas Marshall and Matt Starr and others, to rest in the "East Cemetery."

"When shall their glory fade!" The Methodist College girls were comers in the fifties and sixties, and Dr. Charles Adams welcomed them, with George to chaperone them. George, a captain in the War, and Charles H., a colonel.

Lydia Parrott was down there, and the Tomlins, and the Robert Morrisons, and Tongates, and Mary Parsons and Belle Short—gone to Europe just now—and others—the David Kings and on and on.

Weren't those happy days, when the hundreds of boys and girls were coming here?

The beautiful maple tree at the corner of the high tower at "old Illinois" has gone with the old President and its wonderful leaves of scarlet and gold have become a part of the mold; the brave boys and the sweet girls of the long ago have put on angelic robes, but who can forget the bright days of youth, or think of them as "Melancholy?"

LIBRARY BUILDING

BEGUN AT WHITE HALL

Structure Presented by Seth Griswold Will Also Contain Rest Rooms—Increase Shown in School Attendance.

WHITE HALL, Sept. 19.—Misapprehension as to the realization of the proposed library building and public rest rooms have been set at rest since Friday, when the work of staking off the foundation was done, and dirt began flying Monday morning on the excavation for the basement according to J. E. McAvoy, who has the contract for the foundation. Seth N. Griswold, donor of this magnificent gift to the community, now says that work will be pushed in order that the building may be enclosed before freezing weather sets in.

The building is to be 39 by 59 feet, built of a grey brick with black mortar outlines. It is to be a handsome structure and an ornament to Whiteside park. It is believed that brick will begin to arrive within another week, and this part of the work will begin in the next three weeks by Ernest Stansbury, who says he will use sufficient bricklayers to get the building enclosed in good time.

Mrs. Stansbury is to be consulted as to the provision of a corner stone, and the correspondent has been authorized to prepare the historical matter to be enclosed therein. The event in connection with the laying of the corner stone will take place about the middle of October, and it may be made quite a public event. The structure will cost a minimum of $10,000.

Public School Figures. White Hall, Sept. 19.—The enrollment of the first week of the White Hall public schools shows a total of 682. The total in the grades is 315, junior high 171, and the high 196, which includes 78 freshmen. This high school enrollment is divided between 100 boys and 96 girls, it being something notable for boys to outnumber the girls in the high school department.

The condition of the schools is very crowded, and it begins to look as though the new high school will not be ready for use this term on account of delays incident to the railroad strike holding up the arrival of material. The laying of the corner stone will be slated at a meeting of the board of education Tuesday evening. It will be carried out by the Masonic fraternity, and will be held in the next two weeks, when it will be made an event of importance from inference drawn in the conversation with Secretary H. W. Shirley.

The present term of school was delayed opening a week on account of the county institute at Carrollton. The new White Hall head, D. H. Wells, has the work well in hand with a corps of teachers that are working harmoniously and well. This is the largest public school in the county.

Route to State Fair. White Hall, Sept. 19.—W. S. Corsa, president of the Greene

County Farm Bureau, states that passengers from this section will be routed via Godfrey to attend the Illinois state fair this week on account of the irregular train service via Carrollton and Carlinville. The matter has been up with the Illinois commerce commission to give the same rate via Godfrey as via the Carrollton line and the result is a rate of $4.00 for the round trip from White Hall.

Base Ball Seasons Ends. White Hall, Sept. 19.—A. E. Knight, manager of the Invincibles stats that the base ball season at White Hall is over. A game scheduled for Sunday with Carrollton was cancelled, and there are no more games in sight. The B. O. K. team of Jacksonville has been endeavoring to arrange a return visit to the Invincibles, but the recent appearance of a circus on the base ball park left grounds in such shape that considerable work would be entailed in restoring the diamond, and this work will not be entailed if no more games are scheduled for this season.

J. H. S. NOTES

The High School will start physical training soon. A meeting of all the girls interested was held yesterday afternoon at the close of school, quite a number signifying their intention to sign up for the work. A meeting of boys interested will be held at the close of school today. The girls will be supervised by Miss Hildreth Ashwood and the boys by Mr. Barnes, the assistant instructor in manual training.

In assembly yesterday Mr. Shafer announced that candidates for the position of library assistant were wanted for the various periods. He explained that this is a fine opportunity for any young person who is thinking of taking up library work to gain some good practical experience.

It was found when the petitions for class officers were turned in that there were not near enough. In the senior class one person was nominated for each office while in the sophomore class one person was nominated for one office. The freshmen were the only ones to have a full ticket. Mr. Shafer said that the politics of a school were very interesting as well as practical in his opinion and that he would like to see enough nominees to assure a good fight for the various offices. Owing to the above situation it was decided to allow more petitions to be passed during the afternoon, the results will be made known today.

At the close of school yesterday a short meeting of the dramatic club was held. It was made known that there were eighteen vacancies in the club to be filled and Friday was decided upon as the day for tryouts.

The seating arrangement for assembly is now nearly completed. Most of the pupils will have seats on the ground floor but some sophomores and some freshmen will have to sit in the balcony. The pupils will be seated in alphabetical order.

Laboratory work has now begun in most classes and will begin in the chemistry classes today. The laboratories are well and fully equipped and the instructors are expecting some valiant work to be done this year.

An institute of all the city teachers will be held Saturday. This is the regular monthly institute.

Tryouts for membership in the dramatic club at the high school are scheduled for Friday. Yesterday members of the club met and a committee was named to have charge of the tryouts. This committee includes Miss Gorham, Miss Pietcher, Misses Lavinia Scott, Lois Harney and Mary Edith Baumgartner and Farrell Crabtree.

Candidates for membership in the high school glee club met with Miss Hopper yesterday and the tests are to be held at an early date.

HAS HONORARY SCHOLARSHIP. The college selected by the student winning the Olcott honorary scholarship of $400, awarded last year in Bernardsville, N. J., is the Illinois Woman's College of this city.

Miss Marian Prout is the honor student and, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Prout of Bernardsville, has arrived here to make the necessary arrangements for entering the college.

Miss Prout won her scholarship because of exceptional high standing thruout her high school period and the Woman's college here was chosen because of its recognized standing. The scholarship is made available thru the generosity of a wealthy New York man who resides in Bernardsville.

200 Lbs. 6 Month HOGS

Every farmer wants his hogs to weigh around 200 lbs. at six months of age because that's the kind of hogs that makes the most money for the grower — they cost less to produce and invariably bring top market prices.

There's only one way to get them and that is to begin by feeding the brood sow right and particularly as soon as the pigs are weaned feed them a ration that will develop big frames and meaty bodies—a foundation that is big enough to hold 200 lbs. of flesh.

A splendid growing ration that'll be a big help to you in getting these results is

SUGARED SCHUMACHER FEED

It's a combination of Corn, Oats, Wheat and Barley products finely ground and correctly balanced with high protein concentrates to supply the proper ration for fast, thrifty growth—makes big frames and meaty bodies. Farrow strong thrifty pigs by feeding it to the brood sow, then feed it from weaning time to market time, when finishing for market add corn and tankage to the ration. This is the plan that is being used by many of the most successful hog raisers—it will help YOU to make your hogs weigh 200 lbs. at 6 mos. of age. You will also find Sugared Schumacher fine for cows, calves and horses.

FRANCE LOOKS FOR EARLY SOLUTION OF
TURKISH PROBLEM

Believes That Meeting to be Held Today Will Get Results

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 19.—The calling of a peace conference for the settlement of the Turkish problem will be the chief result of the meeting at the foreign office tomorrow morning at which Premier Poincare, Lord Curzon, British secretary for foreign affairs and the Italian Ambassador to France, Count Sforza, will discuss the entire subject. It is regarded as likely that certain preliminaries of peace will be decided upon the representatives of these three powers.

Officials of the French government were confident tonight that Great Britain materially had modified her belligerent attitude in the Turkish crisis and it was freely predicted that the British troops soon would be withdrawn from the Asiatic side of the straits, leaving the Turks in supreme control of Asia Minor.

It is reliably reported that Lord Curzon comes to Paris in a conciliatory mood and strongly favors an agreement with France and Italy. The British foreign secretary will insist on freedom of the straits and it is believed he will point out the danger of a Kemalist-Bolshevik accord.

The French governmental representatives scout the idea of such an accord.

The allied conference is expected to be held on the assumption that freedom of the straits is understood, disposition of Constantinople and Eastern Thrace will be left to the conference itself.

Unless some unforeseen obstacle develops, the meeting between the representatives of France, Great Britain and Italy it is thought will last only one day.

Leaders of the French policy regard the turn in the Near East problem as one of their greatest diplomatic victories since the war. The newspapers generally point to the "pacific" policy of France as opposed to the more warlike attitude of Great Britain as an effective answer to those who continually charge France with being militaristic. It is further asserted by many newspapers that by effectively pressing his policy of peace M. Poincare has averted a new war.

C. & A. SENDS AWAY STEEL CARS

The Chicago & Alton management signed contracts yesterday for sending 200 steel coal cars to the Mt. Vernon, Ill., car company and 200 to the Illinois car company, with plant at Hammond, Ind.

These 400 cars will be sent away immediately for complete overhauling and a request will be made for prompt attention, due to the demand for such equipment in the coal trade. This order for 400 cars is supplementary to the contract made last week with the Streets company of Chicago for rebuilding 500 box cars. The Alton management hopes that in a short time it will be possible to take care of this work at Bloomington, but with a limited force at work, it is imperative that these cars be sent to foreign shops.

Hugh Lindsay of Litterbery was listed among the Tuesday visitors to the city.

TWO DEAD OF WHITE DAMP

NEODESHA, Kan., Sept. 19.—Mat Maher, formerly a grocery man at Kansas City, Kan., and Sam Brooker of Altoona, Kan., are dead as a result of having been overcome by white damp in a water well on a farm east of here.

Maher's two sons, John and Matt, Jr., also were overcome, but were revived by use of the pulmotor and medical aid. Maher and his sons were engaged in cleaning a well 40 feet deep when one of the sons was overcome by the poisonous gases, the father and other son going to his aid. They, too, were overcome. Book-er going to the aid of the three met a similar fate. The two Maher boys will recover.

"RED" HARMON TO UMPIRE GAMES

The following from the Quincy Herald will be of interest to Harmon's many friends here:

Fighting Bob Harmon, coach of Quincy College's athletic teams, and C. F. Crossley, new coach of Quincy High School's teams, have been signed to umpire in Illinois league games, Oscar W. Shannon, president of that organization announced. Harmon will handle the Palmyra-Moose game at Baldwin Park Sunday, probably without assistance. Crossley has been assigned to handle the Burgmeister-Mendon game at Mendon, Saturday. He will probably have either Harry Henderson or Ed Pettijohn to work with him as field umpire. Harmon has proved he is easily the best umpire in this section. As Crossley has not umpired here, his work is an unknown quality. He starred, when playing at Illinois, under Patsy Clark, G. Huff and Carl Lundgren.

LOVE SICK CADET
TRIES TO SUICIDE

WAUKESHA, Wis., Sept. 19.—In a jealous rage because a Waukesha girl refused to accept his attentions, Ernest Isenbeck, 19, Peabody, Mass., cadet at St. John's military academy here attempted to end his life by taking poison and was in a serious condition at a local hospital today. The youth who was attending the summer session of the academy was said to have visited the girl yesterday when she asked him to cease his attentions to her. Isenbeck then drew forth a small bottle and swallowed poison in the girl's presence, according to his story to hospital authorities.

COAL ECONOMY
NEEDED IN HOME

Engineers Say That 25 Per Cent of Coal Wasted Heating the Home Can be Saved.

WASHINGTON.—While the average household heating plant is reliable, so far as the factor of safety is concerned, this is not always true in economy, says the Bureau of Engineering of the department of the interior, and in view of a possible coal shortage this winter, the householder will have to be very economical in its use.

The engineering bureau has compiled a few facts on coal and its use, to aid the public in coal returns to normal production. The main point of the bureau's paper is the need for economy in burning coal.

It has been stated by good authority, the paper said, that 25 percent of the coal wasted in home heating can be saved. The main point in economy is cleanliness of the plant as soot is an insulator against transference of heat and must be kept out of the furnace and pipes.

Soft coal demands greater care in firing. In putting in fresh coal, it should not cover all the burning surface. If it does, the gases driven off are not ignited and escape. If the shape of the firebox permits, fresh coal should be placed over the front of the fire near the door, then as the gases are driven off, they are ignited over the bright rear surface and add to the heat. Later the coked coal is pushed to the back of the surface and fresh coal again applied to the front. In the case of round heaters, it was said, spread the coal on the lower side only and the gases will be consumed by the heat on the other. The grates should be left in a flat position, a part protruding into the fire, the department said the ash pit should be kept clean as ashes cut off the air supply, which may cause the grates to warp or burn out. A bed of ashes should be kept on the top of the grates to prevent burning out, reducing it in size as the weather grows colder, and should never be shaken until live coals fall out. There should be a check draftdamper in the smoke pipe of hot air, steam or hot water heating plants or kitchen ranges, beside the turn damper, to control the cellar should be covered to conserve heat, and the use of weather strips, storm windows and storm doors about the house will be valuable. Place pans or open-top jars of water on radiators or in front of registers to keep air in home moist.

THE PASSING OF
IONE COULTAS

We are again called upon to chronicle the death of a loved one. Little Ione Coultas, as she was often called by her friends, was ill of typhoid fever for several weeks. This disease she bravely fought and conquered but other complications followed. Conditions seemed hopeful, however, until last Thursday, when she suffered a relapse. On the evening of that day she became much worse and passed away at 9:20 o'clock.

Ione was a bright star in her home and the community surrounding it. She graduated from the Jacksonville high school in the class of 1920 and had taught two successful terms in Scott county. She was engaged as teacher in the Bethel school for the coming term. Owing to her illness Mrs. Fred Muntman had been engaged for an indefinite period, thus she was still hopeful and planning to the last.

She was of a cheerful disposition and had a smile for all and was always an obedient daughter. Her religion was enduring and satisfying and her death was peaceful and triumphant. Her last audible word before she fell asleep was "Mother." She loved her home and was interested in all the good works in the community. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her and that the blessings of the Father who received her spirit, rest on the mother and uncle left in the lonely home is our prayer.

Mildred Ione Coultas had she lived until October 23 would have been 21 years of age. She was the only daughter of Mrs. Ellen Coultas. Her uncle has been employed in Canton, but came here at the beginning of her illness and remained until her death.

SAVED BY A DOG!

Mountaineer's Wife, By Trick, Escapes Man Who Killed Her Husband in Hills

MRS. FLORENCE KESTER AND "COLLIE JIM"

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—A faithful dog, lying outside the door of a lonely mountain cabin, is credited with saving the life of Mrs. Florence Kester and bringing about the arrest of a man, accused of slaying her husband.

A snore from "Collie Jim" and the woman's quick wit drove the slayer away. And then Mrs. Kester, half clothed, escaped by running barefooted in the night across three miles of the San Diego mountains to the main highway.

The man, fleeing because he thought the noise the dog made was the husband, reviving from the clubbing he had received, was caught with the aid of the Scotch collie. He is in jail, and is said to have confessed "moonshine murder."

Police say the two men had been engaged in the illicit whiskey traffic at the mountain cabin and that in a quarrel the man under arrest killed the husband, Tom Kester, by beating him over the head with a pick handle. Then he attacked the 20-year-old wife.

The prisoner told police that before the murder he feared the dog would get him into trouble and he asked Mrs. Kester why she kept the "cur."

"Oh, I don't know," the girl replied, "but you know sometimes a dog will save a person's life."

Came the night of the murder-midnight. Said Mrs. Kester:

"Just after the murder of my husband, I was in the hands of that terrible man. I wondered then where the dog was."

"Finally, I heard him breathing, just outside the door. He was snoring like a human being. I thought for a moment how I could make the most of that. My husband was lying outside, beaten to death."

"Then I thought if I could make that man believe Tom was coming back, I could escape. The dog gave me the very chance. I waited until he gave a loud snore."

"Tom's coming back I screamed. He heard the dog snore once—then he ran. And I escaped across the mountains in my bare feet. I owe my life to this dog."

READ MORE BOOKS

Lewis, Sinclair. "Babbitt." This newest book of the author of "Main Street" will no doubt be equally popular. It is a story of a man, his family and his one great friendship, George F. Babbitt, the main character in the story, is a hustling, prosperous real-estate broker in a city of about 350,000. He does well in all speculations and the world smiles upon him. He is popular in clubs, in business circles, among women and an idol of the world almost. But back of all his various activities there is something that does not seem to be satisfied in him. There is a wistful wonder as to what all this business of living is about anyway. Something surprising happens to George Babbitt and that is the story. This novel is about ourselves, our cities, our homes and the people we know best in our circles of friends. The story is a searching, dignified and important picture of American life today in a big city. The publishers believe it is much better than Main Street. Get it at the public library.

WILL ERECT LARGE COLD STORAGE PLANT

Snyder Ice and Fuel Company Will Make Extensive Increase in Facilities—Betterments To Cost More Than $40,000.

A cold storage plant that will provide space for 4,000 tons of ice and 25,000 barrels of apples is planned by the Snyder Ice & Fuel Co. H. K. Snyder, owner of the business, has recently contracted for the materials that will be necessary for the big building. The insulation of the walls will require 5 car loads of cork and the general materials, brick, stone, cement and steel, to be used in the construction work will amount to 60 car load lots.

The completed building will represent an expenditure in excess of $40,000. Ice will be manufactured and stored in the winter season and after it has been sold in the summer, months the space will be available for the storage of apples.

The building will be 75 by 75 in general dimensions and will face to the west adjoining the company's ice plant, also there will be a frontage on Washington street.

The basement, which will be of solid concrete, will provide a space for the chute thru which ice will be forwarded from the manufacturing plant. In addition to the space for the chute, and the elevator, the basement will be divided into two cold storage rooms. The storage of ice will begin there and then by the use of the elevators the frozen blocks will be sent to the height desired.

The concrete wall which will pass thru the center of the building will run from the basement to the roof, the height of the building to be 49 feet. The loading platform will join the first floor and will be so arranged that the ice cakes can be handled with the greatest ease.

The loading platform for cars will be on the opposite side and a switch track to be run in from the Wabash will make it possible to unload directly from the plant. While the main storage space is designed for ice and barreled fruit certain rooms will be reserved for cheese, butter or other products of the kind which may be kept in storage at any season of the year.

The improvements Mr. Snyder has planned will mean an extension of his ice business into outside territory and will also provide storage conveniences that local produce dealers have long needed. The storage of apples from Calhoun, Greene and Pike counties is now found in Valley

City, Springfield, Peoria and Decatur.

No general contract is to be let for the work, the plans having been prepared by a refrigerating company. Mr. Snyder will supervise the larger part of the construction work. The exterior of the building will be of Springfield paving blocks. Most of the bricks to be used for backing up the walls are already on the ground. The excavating will begin at once with the expectation on the part of Mr. Snyder of having the whole project completed in the course of a few months.

Plans for the purchase of materials were hastened by the impending passage of the tariff law which would serve to greatly increase the prices.

As indicated, the refrigerating materials have been ordered and the same is true with reference to the elevators and some other equipment which will be used in the new plant.

The contract for the steel has been let to the Steel Bridge Co. The construction is such that unusually heavy I-beams will be necessary.

There was a large attendance of members and much interest shown in planning the coming season's activities. A special feature of the evening was an address by Miss Strawick, a returned missionary from China.

Officers elected for the ensuing term were: Mrs. C. D. Robertson, president; Miss Grace Rapp, vice president; Miss Fannie James, secretary; Miss Mittle Godfrey, treasurer; Miss Lelia Reece, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Myrtle Chumley, mite box.

China Rush at Congregational Church.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church gave a china shower Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors for the benefit of the dining room. In this "party" event the hostesses were Mrs. George Merrill, Mrs. James Merrill and Mrs. G. H. Putnam. Mrs. T. P. Carter, president of the Aid society, poured tea. Each of these present brought some gift for the replenishing of the dining room service.

Paid Tribute to, Mrs. Mayer.

The Amoma Bible class of the First Baptist church gave a supper last night in which special recognition was given Mrs. E. O. Mayer, who has long served efficiently as secretary of the class.

Mrs. Mayer is to leave this afternoon for Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the winter with her son and daughter. In view of that fact Rev. Mr. Howell speaking in behalf of the class expressed the esteem in which the members hold Mrs. Mayer and the hope they have that her stay in California may be very pleasant. Mrs. Mayer responded in an appropriate way.

At the business session Mrs. George Smith was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Mayer. The class chose Mrs. E. O. Hess as chairman of the visiting committee in place of Mrs. Lee Huff, resigned. The program followed the serving of an excellent chicken supper.

Mrs. Jonas Wilson is president of the class and Mrs. A. B. Williamson the teacher. Among the guests were Dr. Kopperl, Rev.

Some Family!

Here are Arthur S. M. Hutchinson (below) and his sister. They compose the most famous brother and sister literary couple in England. Hutchinson is the author of "If Winter Comes" and more recently "This Freedom." His sister is beginning to crowd him for literary honors with several books of her own.

Mr. Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford.

The social committee including Mrs. C. H. Story, Mrs. Daniel Barton, Mrs. Edgar Bussey, Mrs. Walter Mumbower and Miss Dollie Bowen had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. E. C. Rutherford gave a surprise party in honor of her mother, Mrs. E. O. Mayer, Monday evening at her home, 706 West North street. Mrs. Rutherford was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Gertrude Richardson, Mrs. Louis Houck, Mrs. Claude Vail and Misses Elie Pyatt and Rhoda Clark.

Members of the Friday Social Circle were the guests and the occasion was one long to be remembered with pleasure.

Stag Social at Illinois College.

A stag social was given in the gymnasium of Illinois college Tuesday night as a get-together event for new students. Arrangements had been made by the college Y. M. C. A. and the boys present thoroughly enjoyed the informal program which had been arranged. Some time was spent in singing college songs and then President Rammelkamp, who has friendly relationships with all the college students, made a short talk. Afterward Clarence Weber told about the traditions of the college and something concerning the activities which may be expected during the coming year. Then came a social hour with refreshments. The whole evening being one calculated to inaugurate the college year in a very pleasing way.

A. L. Howell is president of the Y. M. C. A. and with others arranged for this event.

Entertained Friends.

A house party was given over the recent week-end by Miss Mildred Harvey at her home on East Greenwood avenue. Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Ruth Patterson, Clara Mae Fletcher, Jane Fee, Florence Godfrey and Pauline Hankins. A feature of the party was a trip to Concord and Lynville Sunday.

STURTEVANT NEARING END OF REMODELLING

Historic Building Will be Greatly Improved—Large Lecture Room Will be Feature.

Historic old Sturtevant hall is now nearing the end of the remodeling work that has been under way for the past year. This work is producing a much better and more modern Sturtevant. All the walls have been painted white thus giving a better and more cheerful light.

One of the features of the new-old building is a large lecture room for the use of the extremely large class of the college. In this room the seats are arranged in tiers so that a clear view may be had by all. To the rear of this room is located a small laboratory for the use of the advanced students in biology and several small closets for the storing of laboratory equipment.

The main biology laboratory has its old location, occupying the west side of the second story. Large triple windows admitting a great deal of light is one of the features here.

The chemistry laboratory on the first floor has been improved by the addition of much new equipment. Professor Leavenworth, head of the chemistry department, is greatly pleased with the lighting in the laboratory. Special bulbs are used that allow the student to determine colors altho working with artificial light. The ordinary bulb will not permit this.

A forced ventilation system has been installed and will make laboratory work more enjoyable as it will do away with a large per cent of troublesome odors from gases and chemical liquids.

BISHOP WILSON HEARD IN ADDRESS HERE

Discussed Some of World's Needs at Dinner Given at Grace M. E. Church

Bishop Wilson, a prominent dignitary of the Methodist church, was in Jacksonville yesterday and addressed a company of church people at the dinner given at Grace church in the evening. The tables were spread under the direction of Mrs. George Baxter, numerous other members of the aid society being associated with her in the work. The menu was excellent.

Dr. Moon of the Chicago area introduced Bishop Wilson as one of the greatest men of Methodism. After brief local references Bishop Wilson turned to the thought of the world's needs and the place that Christianity must have in meeting those needs.

Following his address Rev. E. L. Fletcher spoke briefly along the same general lines.

Bishop Wilson said that David Livingstone years ago journeyed into darkest Africa and was followed in later years by Henry M. Stanley who carried with him many letters for Livingstone. The latter paid little attention to the letters but said, "Tell me how the world is getting along." His dominant thought was the welfare of people and in thinking of them he was not considering material values. We should ask ourselves how the world is getting along, and as we think of it we know that in recent years there have come achievements far beyond our dreaming.

From 1914 to 1918 there was marvelous work done in the laboratories but most of that work was used to destroy. That was applied to science in the work of destruction. We thought when the war was over that war would never come again. We thought while ago that China was a republic. Now we are not sure. We do not know what is happening in Egypt, India, Russia, Turkey and Greece.

The purposes of France, Great Britain and Italy are not as one. We may well ask ourselves "How is the world getting on?"

If Livingstone were here he would want to know how the world of industry is getting on. The rich, the poor, the strong and the weak must be brought together to look each other in the face with fairness and compassion.

The speaker said that the world is agitated and even in its turmoil realizes that it needs God. Then he laid especial emphasis on conditions in Africa, a whole continent, which has to be parcelled out to the nations of the world, and closed his address with reference to the need for a Christian evangelism declaring that the need today is even greater than at any time in the past.

MALLORY ORCHESTRA GAVE PROGRAM AT OAK LAWN

An exceptionally pleasing and thoroughly appreciated entertainment was that given at Oak Lawn Sanitarium last night by the Mallory orchestra of this city for the benefit of ex-soldiers and patients. The entertainment lasted for an hour and a half.

The Mallory orchestra is composed of eight pieces and is under the leadership of Mrs. Mazy Mallory, an accomplished musician and director. Between the orchestra numbers the patients were given an especial treat by Edward Mallory, Jr., a clog dancer, and Miss Arena Mallory, soloist. Miss Mallory possesses a trained voice of strength and pleasing quality having spent some time in Chicago studying under voice instructors with a view to platform work. She was obliged to respond to several encores.

Eddie Mallory's clog work is very clever and of a style seldom seen off the professional stage.

The services of the Mallory orchestra including the "specialties" were donated for the evening and the patients at the sanitarium, and the local chapter of the Red Cross under whose auspices these entertainments are given, express their thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Mallory and associates for their kindness.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN WALL BUILDING

Work has been begun by J. J. Wall and a force of men in preparing the west end of his building at the corner of the square and West Court street for occupancy. The huge refrigerator which occupied the room has been torn out and a wide entrance is being cut into the wall on the Court street side. This room will be finished up in an attractive manner and when finished will be occupied by Fred DeFrates as a barber shop. It will have modern equipment and be arranged for four chairs.

Workmen in cutting into the wall found the building to be of superior construction and difficult to tear out. The mortar in which the brick had been laid adhered closely and had become harder than the brick itself. At no place did they find where any of it had crumbled or become loosened by age or wear.

AT SCOTT'S THEATRE

Thru error it was stated in Scott's theatre advertisement in Tuesday's Journal that the picture "The Silent Call" was to be shown for the last time today. This picture will be shown again today. Thursday and Friday will be shown "The Ruling Passion," featuring George Arliss.

What does food economy mean to you?

DOESN'T it mean good living at low cost? Foods that are "short" in nourishing value and "long" in waste are never economical.

The food, Grape-Nuts, is economical to the last serving in the package, because every golden-crisp granule really contributes to body-building.

Grape-Nuts offers the sturdy nutriment of wheat and malted barley in unusually compact form—a comparatively small amount providing exceptional nourishment. The 12-ounce package contains about 16 servings—costing about one cent each.

Every bit of Grape-Nuts is real food, uniquely free from the bulky waste found in many other food products.

Made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, Grape-Nuts has the benefit of 20 hours baking which so modifies the starch of these grains that easy digestibility naturally results.

Eaten with good milk or cream, Grape-Nuts is a complete food, which creates energy without taking away energy. And the gradual, daily accumulation of power is the greatest of all food economies, since reserve energy is what counts most, either in the sudden emergency or the long grind.

A food for economy—a food for health!

And a food with a charm of flavor all its own.

DESCRIBES TRIP TO EASTERN STATES

Miss Mabel Goltra Tells in Interesting Way of Visit to Various Points in East.

Mention was made recently of the return of Mrs. R. J. Young and Miss Mabel Goltra from several months' stay in the east. The following interesting account of the trip was given by Miss Goltra:

Leaving Jacksonville in June I accompanied Mrs. R. J. Young to Portland where I spent several days at Miss Taylor's cottage with Mrs. Young and Miss Louise, her daughter.

The cottage is very beautifully located out on the cape overlooking Casco Bay. I enjoyed several trips down the bay to Long's Island, Prout's Neck and Old Orchard Beach.

From there I went to Hachettstown, Stanhope, Lake Hopatcong and Wilton where I visited friends during July.

Way up on the side of the mountain Ringling is buried and his widow has a beautiful mountain home.

Lake Hopatcong is considered more beautiful than Lake George and indeed is a beautiful spot. I had occasion to cross it several times in a private boat. I motored several hundred miles around the mountains from place to place and consider it one of the most beautiful sections of the country I have ever seen.

One day my friends took me to Somerville and up Chimney Rock, where the Goltra family originally lived, and I saw the remains of the old homestead where the family lived before coming west. In a house across the road there were four old bachelors living together. The scenery was very beautiful all the way up the mountain.

August first I went to Orange, N. J., and from there motored with my cousin to Bridgeport, Conn., their summer home, for about ten days. Here we enjoyed the bathing as the cottage faced the waters of Long Island Sound, and in the evening we could see all the New York boats passing. The trip from Orange to Bridgeport is very interesting by auto, passing thru many suburbs of New York and coming down over the Palisades to the Dyckman Ferry to cross the Hudson river. One sees a wonderful piece of road cut out of the solid rock.

I have never before seen such wonderful displays of hydrangeas and dahlias as a wet summer such as they had this year made every thing beautiful. The grass was like velvet and I scarcely saw a weed. The lawns were mowed every five days, keeping them in perfect condition.

Visits Barnum's Home

P. T. Barnum's estate is at Bridgeport. Motoring back to Orange I took a train for Southampton Long Island, one of the most fashionable places in the east today. The New Yorkers have many beautiful homes on Southampton and also on the Shinnecock Hills overlooking Shinnecock Bay. During three weeks there I motored to Montauk Point, Sag Harbor, the home of Russell Sage, Easthampton, the home of Howard Payne, and many other smaller towns.

At Sag Harbor we called on a Miss Miles who showed us many antiques, among them the latch Paul Revere put his hand on the night of his famous ride. It was polished and mounted on a piece of hard wood, the gift of an old friend of hers.

I returned from Southampton to Ridgwood where I visited Fred Coleman and wife and saw their very attractive new home. I then returned to Portland, Me., where Longfellow's boyhood home still stands in good condition, also his latter home. Here I spent a few more delightful days as Miss Young was entertaining Miss Alice Morgan of Montreal and her cousin, Miss Wilber of Glasgow, Scotland. Miss Morgan was a former pupil of Miss Young's. They were delightful young people to meet.

I also enjoyed visiting the Maine School for the Deaf where Miss Taylor is superintendent and Miss Young her assistant. One day while in New York City my cousin and I spent some time at Dug Out with Miss Anna Stevenson of this city, where the ex-soldiers are doing some interesting work.

PRICE OF WHEAT CLOSED UNSETTLED

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Altho still nervous, wheat traders viewed war possibilities today with more composure, especially as the Liverpool market failed to reflect fully yesterday's advance in America. Prices closed unsettled at 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢, with December $1.03 1/2 to $1.04 and May $1.08 1/2 to $1.09 1/2. Corn finished at 10 1/2¢ to 10 3/4¢, oats unchanged to 10 1/2¢ down, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 17¢. In the absence of any apparent increased danger of warfare on a great scale and with no sign given of important fresh buying for Europe wheat prices in Chicago showed from the outset a tendency to react to a moderate extent from yesterday's sharp upturn. Liquidating sales by yesterday's buyers was a feature.
Meanwhile reports indicating discord between France and Great Britain as to war policy did a good deal to hold speculative sellers from becoming aggressive, but failed to stimulate a decided rally in prices or to renew the enlarged interest which was conspicuous in the market the day before.

bids for wheat as being far out of line and estimated that only 300,000 bushels had been taken for Europe today. Purchasing here for export was confined to 130,000 bushels of hard winter grade according to a British exporter. In England and dealers there in general were undisturbed as to future supplies.
Stocks of wheat at Liverpool showed a decrease for the week and domestic primary receipts were smaller.
Predictions of better shipping demand soon from the east helped to steady the market for corn and oats. Besides, receipts of corn were smaller, lower quotations on hogs weakened the provision market.

YANKS CONTINUE PENNANT MARCH

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—The New York Yankees continued their march toward the American League Championship today by coming from behind in the latter part of their game with Detroit and winning 4 to 3. Faced by a one run handicap yielded to Detroit in the second inning when Sam Jones allowed two of the four hits obtained off his delivery during the game, the Yanks tied the count in the seventh due to clever base running on the part of Schang and Jones and put the game in the winning column in the next frame on extra blows by Pipp and Meusel.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Farmers' Institute Dates.
E. R. Hembrough, secretary of the Morgan County Farmers' Institute, has arranged for three one day sessions as follows: Meredosia, Tuesday, October 17; Asbury church, Wednesday, October 18; and Waverly, Tuesday, October 19. Afternoon and evening sessions are planned for both men and women. The matter of having exhibits is left to the local committees.

Hessian Fly.
As a result of good team work in the matter of late seeding of wheat, we have practically stamped out the Hessian fly from Morgan county. Just now there is grave danger that a few will seed wheat and rye early and bring back the fly. There is no advantage in seeding wheat before October 1. It is not necessary that wheat should make enough growth in the fall to cover the entire ground.

Culling Poultry.
Numerous flock owners have culled their flocks between July 15 and September 15 as recommended by Prof. L. E. Card of the college of agriculture. We suspect there are others who will board a lot of hens of unprofitable type until they die of old age or are left to the chicken thieves. Now is the time to turn these unprofitable hens into cash.

RECALLS EARLIER DAYS.
John Rule, manager of the Dunlap Hotel, was interested yesterday in a page torn from an old program which some one left for him at the hotel. The "scrap of paper" was evidently from a part of a printed invitation for a banquet given at the Dunlap House Friday evening, Oct. 29, 1880, for Capt. Smith, "proprietor of the new Dunlap House." This was a complimentary banquet, arranged by a large number of Jacksonville citizens. A very few of them will perhaps recall this event of forty-two years ago.

WILL PLACED ON RECORD.
In the office of County Clerk Riggs a copy of the will of Miss Margaret Woodward, bearing date of April 4, 1921, was filed. The estate was administered upon in Mobile county, Ala. The testatrix made a number of minor bequests and gave three-fourths of her interest in the home farm to her sister, Julia Woodward, and the remaining one-fourth to her sister, Mrs. Kate Wenger.

BROWNS DROP GAME TO WASHINGTON 4-3

Now Two-and One Half Games Behind Yankees — William Clouts 30th Homer.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 19.—St. Louis dropped two and one half games behind in the pennant race today by losing to Washington 4 to 3 while New York was defeating Detroit. Washington came from behind in the eighth and ran up three tallies. Home runs by Williams and Collins in the fourth and sixth innings, respectively, and Collins' double in the ninth scoring Severide accounted for the Browns runs. Williams' clout was his 39th. He is now leading all other major league players by two circuit drives, Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals his closest rival having 37.

George Sisler was out of the lineup because of his injured right shoulder but batted for Vangilder in the eighth and struck out.

REBUILD HARTWELL LEVEE EMBANKMENTS

Reconstruction Work Made Necessary by Flood Conditions—Betterments Also Planned for Hillview District.

WHITE HALL, Sept. 19.—The work of reconstructing the levee embankment of the Hillview district that was washed out by Apple creek on the south during the high water on April 19, last, has been in progress for the past six weeks. Instead of rebuilding straight across the break, it was found that the water poured through the break with such tremendous force that it dug down to a depth of 25 feet in places, necessitating rebuilding the levee embankment around the point where the flood waters from Apple creek, near the mouth of the Illinois river, had made such a deep depression that filling it would be a bigger job than going around.

The levee embankment will be built some higher than the line of the former embankment. The work is now being done by teams up to within four feet of the new line, the finishing work to be done by dredge boats. The embankment shows the effect of the swirling waters along the river on both sides, and it will require a vast amount of work to put it in its former shape. A petition was filed in county court last week for an assessment for carrying out the reconstruction plans.

The Hillview district levee along the Illinois river has been undergoing a clearing of brush and weeds with the view of getting the works in condition for a heightening of the levee embankment. This work is under the personal supervision of Louis Lowenstein, who resumed the work today, it having been suspended during the hot weather. The Hillview district levee was the only levee in the Illinois valley that withstood the flood waters of last April, and it is to be made still better if the county court grants the application of the commissioners for levying an assessment for carrying out the plans. The hearing is set for October 9.

The Hartwell district suffered a total loss this year by the flood, and the Fairbanks district to the south fared little better. The break in the Fairbanks levee occurred on the river front near the pumping station on April 10, and only the scattering higher points within the 14,000 acres escaped the water. The Hartwell district retains a total of 22,000 acres taken from the productive capacity of Greene county this season.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 19.—Nat Ray, Cleveland horseman today piloted two horses to first place positions at the Grand Circuit races winning two of the richest stakes of the entire meeting.

Behind Peter Earl he won the "Horse Review Futurity for 3 year old trotters, which carried a purse of $3,000 and with Peter The Brewer he took the M. & M. $5,000 stake from a great field of trotters.

Peter Earl in trotting the second heat of the Horse Review Futurity in 2:04 1-4 covered a mile in the fastest time of the season for a colt of his age. Peter The Brewer won his race in straight heats. Both of Ray's horses were strong favorites.

Great Britton, driven by his owner, J. L. Dodge of Lexington, Ky., won the Capitol City stake for 2:05 trotters in straight heats. The only class race on the card, the 2:06 pace, furnished the only upset. Trampante generally favored to win failed to take a heat. The first heat went to King Hedgewood and Billy J. Kay an Indiana pacer won the final two. His time in the second heat 2:01 3-4 gave him a new record and furnished the fastest time of the day.
